Call to Worship

Leader: About five hundred years ago, many church leaders and people felt the winds of God's presence blowing over the face of the world and moving them to protest and reform the church they knew and loved.

Pulpit Side: Luther posted the 95 thesis and the Protestant Reformation began. The faith was transformed and become a place where everyone could read the bible and participate more fully in the life of the church.

Lectern Side: In England the Separatists set off on a journey toward religious freedom that brought them to found our country. They are our forebears and we thank them for their witness of courage and faith.

Leader: God continues to call us to grow and change as the world changes around us. Grant us the faith and courage to step out boldly for love and freedom Christ offers to us all.

Everyone: Come, let us worship our God of protest and transformation.

A Stewardship Witness

Celebrating Our Giving to God at First Church

We respond to gifts of divine abundance and the opportunity to participate in a vibrant and vital ministry at First Church by bringing our yearly pledge cards AND our weekly gifts forward and placing both on the altar. This symbolizes not only our gratitude to God, but our dedication to Christ's community of faith in Essex Junction. If you have already sent in your pledge card, there will be an "I've Already Given" card in the Narthex for you to bring forward.

Wednesday Night Searchers

In October, we are reading Moral Man and Immoral Society: A Study in Ethics and Politics by Reinhold Niebuhr. Niebuhr writes cogently on the morality of individuals and the moral ethics of society or the lack thereof. He illuminates why moral individuals are unable to think outside of their own self-interest, and how that impacts society at large, and how to address this for the betterment of all. We'll have a healthy conversation on ethics, politics, religion, morality, and more. The book is available online via e-books or pdf and there are a few print copies around to borrow. Join us at any point in the month.

It is an expression of your gratitude to God and of your continuing commitment to Christ's community of faith here at FCCEJ. If you have forgotten your pledge card, you can email your confidential pledge to Financial Secretary Pat Seaver at ytri2@aol.com, get another one online at www.fccej.org or we will have extras printed out for today's services.
